THE CONYERS BEACON

“Blessed be the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, the Father of mercies and God of all comfort, who comforts us in all our tribulation, that we may be able to comfort those who are in any trouble, with the comfort with which we ourselves are comforted by God.”

2 Corinthians 1:3-4

Let It Go!

There is a relatively new internet application that allows a person to post something for sale called "Let It Go". The commercials are so entertaining as they strike our funny bones because we all have those things we do not need; nor will we ever use again but for some reason we have them stored away. We save those things for that day when we have plenty of time to use and appreciate them again. The giant video game console that is sold just before the avalanche is funny and yet a thought provoking point. How often do we hold onto things until they become a hazard?

To solve this problem some forward thinking innovators built storage spaces that could be rented. Years ago, when this idea was first put forward and the buildings were built many people scoffed at the idea. As people moved from one place to another for jobs or just for bigger homes, the scoffers found themselves using them. Interesting is the fact that those who use public storage facilities rarely clean them completely out when fully moved. Some of the advertisers call them "extra closets" to ease the pain of the monthly fees. But years of draining home budgets created more innovative thought for commerce. First it was the yard sale epidemic. Next came Craig's list, Ebay, Let It Go and others to provide new ways of dealing with our "stuff" problems.

The latest ways to keep our homes and garages clear give us opportunities not only to sell but also to buy what others do not need or want. All too often we replace old stuff with someone else's old stuff or we buy new stuff and once again we need a larger house or garage. This begs the question, "What could we do to help others instead of getting more 'stuff'?" The Bible warns us about thinking only of ourselves and building bigger barns to store our "stuff".

And he told them a parable, saying, "The land of a rich man produced plentifully, and he thought to himself, What shall I do, for I have nowhere to store my crops?" And he said, 'I will do this: I will tear down my barns and build larger ones, and there I will store all my grain and my goods. And I will say to my soul, "Soul, you have ample goods laid up for many years; relax, eat, drink, be merry.'" But God said to him, Fool! This night your soul is required of you, and the things you have prepared, whose will they be?' So is the one who lays up treasure for himself and is not rich toward God." (Luke 12:16-21, ESV)

Examining possessions one can clearly see the picture and the "stuff" problem the rich man had from this parable. We can evaluate our own "stuff" problems but there is another principle we can glean from this example.

Feelings can be the "stuff" that gets in the way of our lives also. Anger can be the stuff that gets in the way when we alienate ourselves from others. We don't want to "Let It Go" because we are justified in our anger. We worked hard to feel justified and indignant about the behavior of another. As time goes by this person will surely add to our barn full of anger and so we need a bigger space to put it. Because we have learned to enjoy justification we add to the pile of "stuff" and need a new barn. The alienation continues as we sit on top of our "stuff" feeling very good about ourselves but inside there is a hole growing like a cancer.

Add jealousy or covetousness to this list of "stuff" and the barns can get pretty full. Rather than renting space to have more negative, self-destructive emotions let us turn to the purging systems and "Let It Go."

We need not store up emotions that cause us to alienate ourselves because that "stuff" will be our ruin. This would be a good week to clean out your barn of emotions that prevent you from fellowship with other and prevent you from God. Every time you see or hear the commercial use that also as a reminder to "Let It Go."
